Epson secures three Outstanding accolades as part of the Keypoint Intelligence - Buyers Lab Summer 2020 Pick Awards

Small and home office inkjet printers recognised at time of new importance

Epson WorkForce Pro WF-C5790DWF

Outstanding Personal Colour Inkjet All-in-One

Epson has been awarded three Summer 2020 Pick awards by Keypoint Intelligence - Buyers Lab (BLI) - for its small and home office printers. This recognition comes at a time of increased importance for desktop and small workgroup printers, as many of us continue to work from home or in reduced workplace groups.

As with all Epson inkjets, those being recognised as part of these Awards offer outstanding sustainability credentials, leveraging Epson's Heat-free technology and reducing energy consumption and resulting CO ₂ emissions. They also offer significantly lower print costs than competitors, along with reliable performance and high-quality output.

Kaitlin Shaw, Keypoint Intelligence's Associate Director of A4 Hardware, comments: "Taking home three Picks in the small and home office categories, Epson offers unbeatable value to low-volume users.

"For low cost per page, users get high-quality output, perfect reliability, and impressive user-friendliness, including touchscreens and simple routine maintenance procedures. Monochrome or colour, letter-size or wide format, Epson has a device that will easily meet user needs and will save them money in the long-run."

Darren Phelps, vice president, Epson Europe, says, "These accolades are testament to the efforts made by Epson to deliver outstanding value for money and high quality, sustainable print; whether in the office or at home. We're delighted to have received this recognition."

The winning models are:

Epson EcoTank ET-16650 (EU model) / Epson EcoTank L15160 (MEA model)

Outstanding Tabloid Colour Inkjet All-in-One
